

Members - Board of Directors

Commitment: Minimum 2-year term

Deadline to Apply: April 2, 2025

Position Description: The London Children's Museum is seeking skilled, community-minded individuals to join our Board of Directors. The ideal candidate has leadership or governance experience and is eager to contribute to the overall growth and impact of the organization. As a member of the Board, your experience and professional expertise will provide strategic direction for the exciting next chapter in the London Children's Museum history. While anyone who is interested is encouraged to apply, the following is being sought to complement the existing Directors:

- Individuals with financial, legal and/or human resources experience
- Individuals representing the education, fundraising or not for profit management sectors

The London Children's Museum works to ensure equitable access to play. A diverse leadership team is required to cultivate an inclusive and accessible space that serves all children and families. As such, priority will be given to expanding Board diversity in the areas of age, gender expression, ethnicity, race, lived experience, and under-represented perspectives.

The required commitments for the Director position are as follows:

- The ability to serve for a minimum 2-year term
- Attend monthly board meetings in person
- Serve on one or more sub-committees of the Board
- Embrace the mission, vision, and values of the London Children's Museum
- Represent and advocate for the London Children's Museum in the community

About the London Children's Museum

The London Children's Museum curates powerful play experiences through immersive environments, authentic materials, and meaningful relationships. As a champion for children, we advocate for their unique perspectives, contributions, and ways of learning. After 40 years in the same location, the London Children's Museum recently opened the doors to its new home at 100 Kellogg Lane. This $23 million project is more than a museum— it's a home that honors the voices of children, celebrates the power of play, and fosters a lifelong love of learning.

If you are passionate about play-based learning and community impact, we would love to hear from you!
